

Campus Chest Drive Starts Monday

lets go on sale Monday, the week long Chest Fund Drive from Jan. 20.

se tickets, costing a dollar give student body members opportunity of contributing even charitable organization in an annual drive rather having various smaller contributions throughout the year.

Service units have volunteered their time to the drive and will visit student residences next week to sell the tickets.

Tickets may also be purchased at a booth on campus for students missed when the service units collect and for married students wishing to contribute, who will not be contacted at their homes.

These numbered tickets besides giving student body members the opportunity of giving to these charities, will admit the holder to the dance following the Utah State game.

Exotic decorations and floor show are being planned for the dance, and will be held in three halls. The American Federation of Musicians local will sponsor the music for the dance.

Competition among units other than service units for a trophy will be a special feature of the week. The trophy will be awarded to the unit contributing the largest amount to the Campus Chest Fund.

Decided by a Senate enactment, proceeds will be divided among the following organizations: Boy Scouts of America, 10 per cent; American Red Cross, 6 per cent; Infantile Paralysis, 10 per cent; American Korean Foundation, 8 per cent; World University Service, 6 per cent; and the emergency fund, 20 per cent.

Four Halls Set For Victory Hop

"Social Whirl," Friday's victory dance, will be held in four halls rather than the usual three to guarantee ample dancing room, according to Central Dance Committee, sponsors.

Couples will dance to the music of the Y's Men at the Social Hall, Grady Edfield in the multi-purpose area of Smith Family Living Center and Stan Taylor at Maesser School (1st S. and 5th E.).

Gard Madsen will play at the Fieldhouse while "Big as the style" and the Cougarettes will be in attendance to insure everyone a good time, says Central Dance.

Tickets will be sold at the door for 75 cents a couple and 40 cents for single.

SEMBLY ACTION—"Cave People" Marty Harris and Nielson illustrate costumes and action being prepared Friday's student assembly. The Viking-Val Norn procession is entitled, "When You Were a Tadpole."

'Comprehension Vital,' Claims Elder Richards

by Pat Middleton
Daily Universe Writer

"Our loyalty to the Church and its teachings depends a lot on the ability that we have to comprehend them. Many lack the ability to understand and appreciate the Gospel," Elder LeGrand Richards said at Wednesday's devotional assembly.

Elder Richards of the Council of the Twelve of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints quoted the promise given by the Savior who said that the Gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached to all nations of the earth, for God said He would bring the world out of obscurity.

"This promise," said Elder Richards, "is being fulfilled every day throughout the world, for people are beginning to realize their need for the Gospel of Christ."

"People come in our midst constantly who recognize the achievements in our Church," he said. While Elder Richards was president of the Southern States Mission, he told missionaries the day would come when they would not have to go from door to door, for they would receive so many inquiries they could not answer them all.

"However," he reminded his listeners, "there will always be hardships. The Savior Himself said of this Church, 'You will be hated of all nations for my name's sake.' These conditions have prevailed," Elder Richards said, "for many have suffered."

"The Lord promised His disciples the power to lay the foundations of His Church, and He has set His hand again to recover the dispersed of Israel, through the Prophet Joseph Smith," he said.

"You can search all the religions and philosophies of the world and you will find nothing to compare with this work of the Lord."

He read a number of quotes from members of sectarian churches throughout the world praising the organization and the Mormon Church. Some expressed desire for membership.

He quoted a man of renown who visited the West, "I had to come out here in the mountains and the valleys of the West to find a religion that could save the world."

Kenton Signs Contract For 2 Night Engagement

A signed contract from Stan Kenton and his orchestra agreeing to play on Feb. 6 and 7 at the Winter Carnival Dance, was received late Tuesday by Mike Kirkham, vice president of social activities. In addition a free jazz concert will be presented Feb. 7 at 6 to 7:30 p.m.

Kenton's orchestra will appear in the Smith Fieldhouse as part of the activities scheduled for Winter Carnival Week, Feb. 2 through 6, sponsored by the Associated Men Students.

Stan Kenton . . . Agrees to Play at Winter Carnival.

Ticket Date Set

Tickets will go on sale Jan. 29 for $1.25 per couple. Sales will begin 7 a.m. in the Smith Family Living Center, Smith Bldg., Eyring Science Center and McKay Bldg. One hundred seventy-five tickets will be sold at each booth, or a total of 170 couples each night. Student activity cards must be presented to get tickets, and not more than two tickets can be purchased by one person.

"We've had an adequate fund built up because students have been supporting dances and are able to sell 200 tickets for the $1.25," stated Kirkham.

Kenton's coming will mark the first time in Brigham Young University history that at least two major attractions will appear before the student body in one year.

Monday Night Performance of 'King and I' Set

Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical "The King and I" will be presented one additional night, according to the speech department.

Tickets for the extra performance, 8:15 p.m. Monday, will go on sale noon Friday in the Smith Bldg.

In addition extra seats will be set up in the Smith Ballroom for the performances Wednesday through Saturday. Students will be admitted with activity cards on a first come-first serve basis. Curtain time will be 8:15 p.m. in the Smith Auditorium.

Leading roles will be taken by John K. Crnkovic (the king) and Lynne Bloomfield (Anna).

University Departments List Helps, Problems of Semester

by Jackie Richardson
Daily Universe Writer

Ed. note: This is the fourth in a series of articles dealing with the possibility of changing to the semester system and the effects of such a change.

The adoption of the semester system at Brigham Young University would affect not only students and faculty members, but it would also effect many departments on campus.

A survey of departments considered most likely to be affected by a change showed that nearly one-half would definitely benefit by the semester play, but none would be seriously hindered.

One fourth of the departments claimed that the change would have both good and bad effects, and the remaining departments would not be greatly affected.

Registrar Gives Views

Registrar Louise Spencer stated that the word "very much welcome the semester system." It would decrease the work of that department by one third, because registration and posting of records and grades would be handled only twice instead of three times yearly.

Student Housing office manager, Gladys Doughty, said that her department would much prefer the semester plan because it would cause considerable work in placing students.

Under the present system, vacancies due to drop-outs must be filled within a year, but this would be necessary only once a year if there were only two terms.

A school year of two terms would be advantageous for the library because books would be taken in and out of reserve fewer times each year, and there would be less work for the circulation and reference departments, according to Mrs. Hattie M. Knight, coordinator for readers services.

High Cut Work

The semester system would also decrease the work of the machine accounting department as handies grades and the scheduling of classes, which must be coordinated with class schedules.

According to Miss Muriel Thole, of the cashing office, the proposed system would eliminate much work in that department. She added that the students would not be paying fees only twice a year.

Changing to semesters would enable the textbook department to send books to students more efficiently. It would have a greater chance to supply students and would have more time for checking and returning books. Decreased sales would result, however.

Pose Training Problem

Dr. Ray Wilcox related that the change to semesters would pose serious problems for the student teaching program. At present, prospective teachers spend one quarter away from the campus in student teaching.

If the change to semesters, the time probably would be extended to a semester and would cause difficulty with other departments.

Cougar ... by the Tale

Karen White

An extremely homely person once made the comment that beauty is only skin deep. This creates a problem. With all this skin, it can't even be seen under one of Revlon's wonders.

On some women's budgets, cosmetics head the expense account. The husband and kiddies may be starving, but they certainly do have a lovely mother. The secret all lies in the name of the beauty aid. Luscious creams and concoctions are boxed under such labels as "Strawberry Cooler" (picked from grandma's very own garden), "Royal Bee Jelly," "Pink Ice" (available in 10-lb. blocks), and "Princess Adam's Mud Facial" (taken from the south bank of the Nile).

As mentioned before, the secret of sales is hidden in the name. In categorizing strawberry paste and honey into the budget, the housewife can neatly disguise the items under a collective title of "food." After all, the children need their milk, dear.

There is no doubt that the plump preparations actually do what they say. The directions state, 1. Scrub face thoroughly with soap and hot water. 2. Rinse. 3. Apply "Blemish Blur." 4. Wash face thoroughly with soap and cold water. 5. Rinse. Naturally, the same results could be reached by eliminating step 3.

Evening Division Work...

Six Non-Credit Courses Offered

Six new non-credit evening courses are now being offered by the Special Courses and Institutes Department, Adult Education and Extension Services, Brigham Young University. It was announced Wednesday by Dean Harold Glen Clark.

"Acts of the Apostles," dealing primarily with the theological, sociological and organizational aspects of the Primitive Church of Jesus Christ, will be taught by Glenn L. Pearson, instructor in religion at BYU. The course will begin Thursday, Jan. 22 and run through March 12 at 7:30 to 9 p.m. in room 130, Smith Bldg.

"Personal Investments," from Jan. 28 through March 4, 7 to 9 p.m. in room 211 McKay Bldg. will be taught by Stephen R. Covey, BYU instructor in marketing. Topics covered will include stock markets, real estate and mortgages, bond yields and values, investment processes, taxation and legal regulations.

"Body Mechanics and Physical Reconditioning for Women," will be instructed by Vernon S. Barney, assistant professor of health and physical education, and Cynthia Cowan, instructor in physical education at BYU.

Proper techniques in body mechanics such as walking and sitting, with reconditioning exercises to build muscle tone will be stressed Monday and Thursday, Jan. 19 through March 12 from 8 to 9 p.m. in the therapy room, Fieldhouse.

"You and Your Child," the study of the growth and development of children, with practical application for parents with children enrolled in the BYU Elementary School, are slated by these instructors in human development and family relationship, BYU.

Section I already begun running on Mondays through March 2, 8 to 9:30 p.m. in 1245 Smith Family Living Center. Section II runs Tuesday through March 3 at the place and hour.

"House planning and construction," taught by Glen Enke staff engineer, G. Steel and former chairman of the BYU Civil Engineering department, is now running Thursdays through March from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in room 211 Eyring Science Center.

Ernest L. Olson, assistant professor of English at BYU instructs the Reading Better "Faster" course Thursday through March 3, now under room 116, McKay Bldg.

The course is designed to be read faster and more comprehensively and to increase speed of perception, widen one's span of vision. All have a lot of reading to do, invited to visit the class.

Veep Appoints New Chairman For Assemblies

Tami Kirk, a junior from Glendale, Calif., has been named chairman of the events assembly committee by Al Miner, vice president of council.

The events committee is a complete assembly committee that contacts the people putting on the assembly and helps out their committee, filling vacancies if necessary and making contacts and arrangements for the group.

The committee also helps judge for the best assemblies, social unit or events of each quarter and the year and for the sweepstakes trophy.

Tami is on the "Y" Day committee and the Winter Carnival committee. She has helped direct three assemblies, including the 1937 Sophomore Loan Fund assembly, and she will direct this year's Junior Prom assembly.

Tami has also appeared in several assemblies. She was Cougarette and is a member of O.S. Trovata social unit. She is a sociology major and a psychology minor.

Tami says that she feels that assemblies have improved this year. She also said that attendance was better this year and she's hoping for better attendance as the year goes on.

ments such as athletics and music.

He expressed the opinion, however, that the students would benefit by the longer student teaching period.

Mrs. Irene Webb of adult education expressed her department's belief that the semester plan would accomplish the most good for the students because of the present tendency to enroll in classes in a hit-and-miss fashion, since the classes are so short.

On the other hand, quarters are more convenient for housewives who may be able to get from home duties to a quarter but not for the five month semester.

The secretary to Orrin H. Jackson, who is in charge of admissions and records, was not sure whether the change would decrease their department's work or make it more difficult because it would come all at once under the semester system.

Other departments which would not be affected either way include the placement bureau, summer school program and veterans program.

Annual Combined Invitational Held Saturday

Alcyone and Tau Sigma members are once again making plans for their combined invitational. This year's "Miramar", theme title, will be held Saturday evening from 8:30 to 11:30 in the Springville Third and Ninth Ward chapel.

According to the legend, Miramar was an Austrian palace that the Mexican emperor, Maximilian, built for his beloved wife, Charlotte.

After Maximilian lost his empire in Mexico, there was such bitter disappointment that his wife returned to Miramar and died. After the death of Maximilian his body was sent to the Austrian palace where it was interred.

Decorations for the formal event are being centered along the lines of the picturesque palace. On one wall will be a mural which will give the viewer the effect of looking out of a window on to a formal garden. Fountains with intricate geometric designs can be seen with a balanced line of shrubbery.

Marble columns will be placed around the room to add to the early times atmosphere. The orchestra will be placed on a marble balcony.

Doormen complete with wigs, long, satin coats, and white ruffled shirts typical of that period of time are scheduled to greet the party goers.

Also five crystal chandeliers

Pros Rest, Await All-Star Game

by United Press International
The Boston Celtics and Detroit Pistons today hoped that a two-day "break" for the National Basketball Association's all-star game will give them a chance to re-group their forces for the pennant push.

Both teams can use a rest while the All-Stars get together for their annual game at Detroit tomorrow night. The Celtics have three men, including Bob Cousy, on the injured list. The Pistons are comparatively healthy but currently are caught in a four-game losing streak.

Playing without Cousy, Jim Loscutt and Lou Taboropoulos.

the Celtics suffered a 134-112 setback last night by the Nationals at Syracuse, while the Philadelphia Warriors downed the Pistons, 112-105.
